What is the Thurston Investment Network?

A membership-based network, Thurston Investment Network (THINK) is for individuals who have a desire to have a local component to their investment portfolio. The network members are provided opportunities to connect with local businesses that have expressed interest in local capital.

THINK is an alternative to banks, other commercial lenders, and credit cards. Businesses can borrow capital from fellow community members who are their neighbors, customers, or others interested in their success.

Interested in loaning directly to local small businesses? Join us at upcoming events to learn how:

Informational Night

Wednesday, February 15
